

KLAN FIGHT TO BE CARRIED TO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION FLOOR

Four Members of Resolutions Committee Demanding Organization be Named to Make Minority Report

NIGHT SESSION AGREED ON

Floor Fight on League of Nations Plank Also Certain. Due to Demand for U. S. Entrance

FAVORITE SONS HAVE DAY

Former Governor Cox and Others Who are Present, are Accorded Demonstration

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—The bitter fight on the Klan issue which for two days has been kept under cover in the executive sessions of the resolutions committee, may be brought into the open tonight when the democratic national convention meets for an evening session.

Leaders have definitely agreed to recess after all nominating speeches have been made this afternoon until eight o'clock.

One of the first demands will be for a report from the resolutions committee. If the committee is ready the platform may be reported along with such minority reports as may be returned.

A fight on the convention floor over the Klan was made certain this afternoon when the sub-committee voted ten to four to submit a plank to the full committee denouncing the principals of the Klan but not naming it. The quartet demanding that the Klan be named will submit a minority report and the floodgates at debate will then be opened.

A floor fight on the league is also certain. Former Secretary of War Baker will not consent to any change in his proposal that the league be endorsed and that the party be pledged to American entrance. The sub-committee is presenting this question to the full committee, but Baker declares that if his plan is not adopted as it stands, he will make a minority report and take the floor to fight for his principals.

The McAdoo forces have been seeking to bring on a situation that would force the convention to start balloting before the platform is reported. They will have to muster a two-thirds majority to bring about this change in the rules.

Early in the afternoon there was still doubt whether the resolution committee would be ready to make its report tonight.

The dark horses and favorite sons had their day in the convention today as runners-up to the big Smith show of yesterday. Former Governor Cox of Ohio and others who were presented were accorded demonstrations of varying intensities but none approached the blow-off staged for McAdoo and Smith.

Meantime Tom Taggart of Indiana was moving about smiling and confident that Senator Sam Ralston will

TODAY'S DOINGS IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Convention called to order at 11:41 by Chairman Walsh.

Invocation by Rev. Dwight W. Wylie, of New York.

William J. Quinn of St. Paul seconded the nomination of Governor Al Smith.

Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker placed in nomination for the presidency James M. Cox of Ohio. Wm. H. Mahoney, seconded the nomination of Al Smith.

Governor Samuel Stewart, Montana, seconded the nomination of Wm. G. McAdoo.

Eugene O'Sullivan of Omaha placed Governor Charles W. Bryan, brother of Wm. Jennings Bryan in nomination.

be the nominee, Tom Taggart has kept out of the Klan fight to date, letting George Brennan of Illinois, the Smith managers and McAdoo forces tangle themselves up in it as much as they like.

"We are simply swimming close to shore in quiet waters," said Taggart, "but when the break comes, watch us."

David Rockwell, McAdoo's manager, stated at 1:20 that the leaders of the different factions had agreed to a recess after the nominating speeches were concluded until eight o'clock tonight. This was confirmed by George Brennan.

There was doubt, however whether the platform committee would be ready to report in time and make a meeting this evening worth while. Rockwell said that if it appeared the platform committee would not be ready, the McAdoo supporters would make no effort to effect suspension of the rules so that balloting could begin. It has been decided that if the platform committee is not ready to report there will be adjournment until tomorrow.

Chairman Walsh slammed down his gavel calling for order at 11:41. The galleries were only partially filled when quiet was obtained and Chairman Walsh introduced Rev. Dwight W. Wylie, pastor of Central Presbyterian church of New York to deliver the invocation.

As the convention got under way it was noted that George Brennan, Ed Moore, Thomas Taggart and others of the anti-McAdoo forces were not in their seats.

After a few announcements by the secretary, the roll of the roll of the states for nominations and seconds was resumed. Minnesota led off in the person of Wm. J. Quinn of St. Paul, who seconded the nomination of Al Smith.

Quinn got a big hand in mentioning Smith's name and there were whistles, cheers, applause and the inevitable band.

The roll call was resumed. Mississippi yielded to Ohio. There was an outburst of applause as it was realized the standard bearer of four years ago was about to be placed in nomination again. Newton D. Baker mounted the platform and virtually all the delegations on the floor rose to their feet and cheered. The fact that Mississippi yielded to Ohio and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, the key-note, was one of the Cox floor leaders at San Francisco four years ago caused general belief that Harrison had decided to lineup with McAdoo.

ROBBERY SUSPECT IS HELD

Indianapolis Man Quizzed in Connection With Ayres Robbery

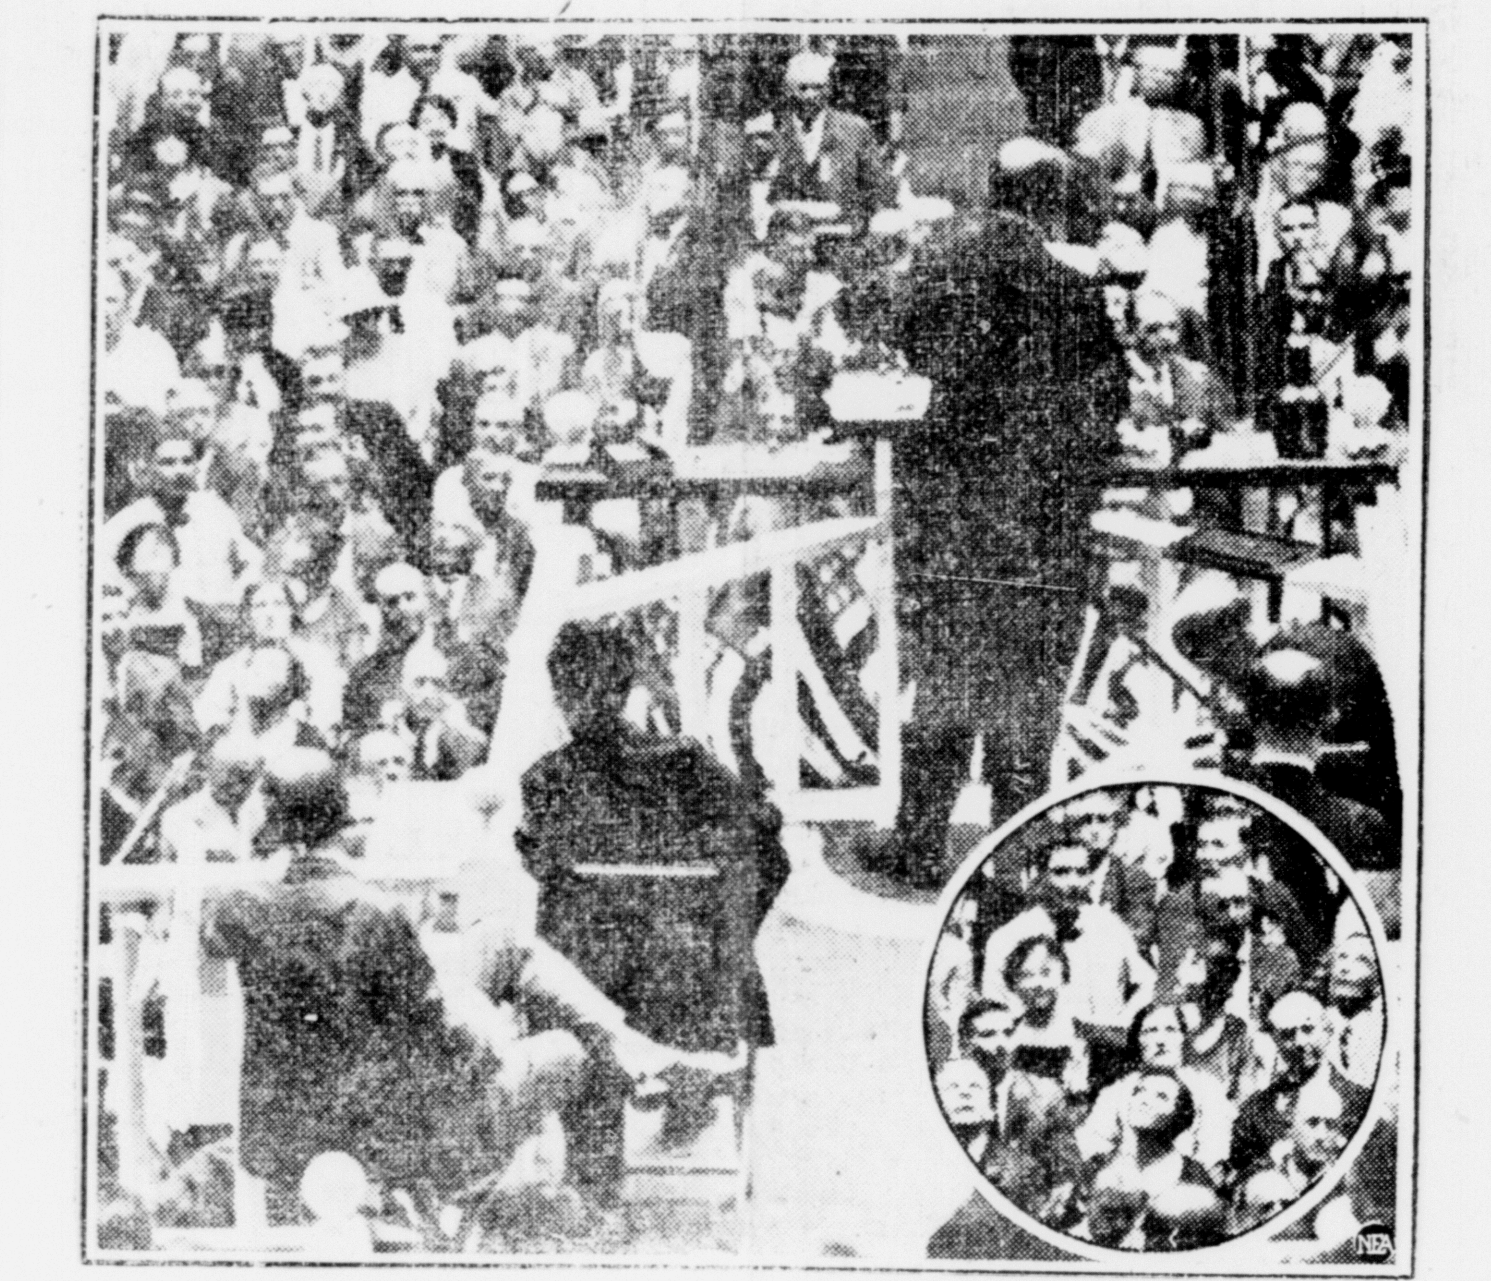

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Police today arrested and quizzed an Indianapolis man as to his whereabouts on the night of the robbery of the L. S. Ayres store.

The man, whose name was withheld, was held under high bond on a vagrancy charge.

Another valuable clue was given police by a woman who saw two men inspecting the exterior of the store the day before the robbery.

The two men inspected the air ducts and grating in the rear of the store and one of the men sketched something on a piece of paper.

CONVENTION REVEALS CROWD PSYCHOLOGY

This is a photograph of mental attitude. Occasionally motion pictures reveal thoughts of actors. Rarely is a mental process caught in one photograph. Notice the attitude of the delegates assembled in the Democratic Convention Hall at New York. Specially the women in the inset group. The picture, taken in one of those frequent moments of apathy that come in a spirited gathering, shows that little attention is being paid to the speaker.

SMITH MEN CLAIM VICTORY ON TENTH

Adherents of New York Governor Feel Certain he Will be Nominated For President

HAPPY OVER FIRST SKIRMISH

By PERCY B. SCOTT (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 27.—Having staged their "show" the managers of Governor Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination went to work again today to bring to fruition their plan of extending the Sidewalks of New York to Washington.

Confident that Wm. G. McAdoo is beaten and equally confident that they have sufficient votes to nominate their candidate, the Smith men today claimed the empire state governor would "go over on the tenth ballot."

The were enthusiastic over their first skirmish with the forces of the Californian late yesterday in which they forced an adjournment today when the westerner and his backers wanted a night session. Actually the fight was between McAdoo group on the one side and all the anti-McAdoo men on the other, but it was engineered and captained by the New Yorkers.

The governor planned to keep in touch with the situation by telephone today from his suite in the hotel Biltmore.

Sullivan, Ind., June 27.—One miner is dead and another in a serious condition at a local hospital as a result of a slate cave-in at Vandala mine, No. 16, early today.

Rescuers pulled the body of D. V. Brough of Linton, from under the debris of slate. The cave-in is believed to have killed him instantly. He is survived by a widow and three small children.

Charles Starkey the injured, may die.

WAS CHAIRMEN OF TWO COMMITTEES

Representative R. N. Elliott, Visiting Here Today, Gives Some Idea of Duties of a Congressman

HAD TO SIT ON THE LID

As Head of Buildings and Grounds Committee, 6th District Congressman Held off Raids

Some idea of the duties of a congressman, aside from attending sessions and voting on bills, may be gained from the experiences of Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, representative of the sixth Indiana district who was visiting friends in Rushville today.

Congressman Elliott is chairman of the elections committee and was acting chairman of the public buildings and grounds committee of the house, and in addition to hearing three election contest cases, he had to sit on the lid during the whole session and try to prevent the passage of a "pork barrel" bill.

"There are 915 bills, involving appropriations of $300,000,000, pending before the public grounds and buildings committee of the house," he said.

"It was the policy of the administration, in accordance with the economy program, to hold federal improvements down to the minimum, and the committee had to hold in check the congressmen who wanted appropriations demanded by their constituents.

"I voted against the appropriation bill because about $56,000,000 was tacked on to it after it came out of committee, and it was that much in excess of what the administration recommended."

"There will come a time soon, however," he continued, "when it will be economy to build more government buildings because of the exorbitant rents that are being charged in many instances."

Congress has a big problem in pacifying all of the conflicting interests that are represented in congress.

WIDOW STICKS TO HER VERSION OF SLAYING

Mrs. Vera Rogers is Unshaken in Her Testimony Regarding Murder of Her Husband

KILLED DURING MINE WAR

Boonville, Ind., June 27.—Circuit court was jammed today for the third day of the trial of Bert Stanton and Bert Julian, charged with the murder of Wesley Rogers.

Mrs. Vera Rogers, widow of the slain man, stuck stoutly to her story of the killing throughout a rigid cross examination yesterday.

She said the two accused men attacked her husband and beat him to death with a club.

Attorneys for the defense were unable to shake her story in a single detail.

Rogers was killed during a miners' strike. Feeling is running high for both the defense and prosecution, and authorities are taking every precaution to prevent a demonstration in the court room.

GIVEN FULL CITIZENSHIP

Few People Here Knew John Rutledge Was Not American Citizen

John Rutledge of Newcastle, formerly of this city, was the only one of three men given full citizenship papers by Judge Hinchaw in the Henry circuit court this week. Mr. Rutledge, a native of Scotland, came to this country when a boy, and during the years that he spent in this city, it was known by only a few persons that he was not an American citizen. While here he was active in politics and fraternal work, and was a railroad office clerk. He passed the examination with the highest average, and after the court had ruled on the matter, he made an eloquent talk expressing appreciation of becoming a citizen.

Mr. Rutledge is still in the railroad business, and is employed as the chief clerk at the Pennsylvania depot in Newcastle.

REPEATED BY REQUEST

Owing to the storm last Sunday evening many people who desired to hear the sermon at the Main Street Christian church on "Parents as Their Daughters See Them," were prevented from attending. So many requests have come to the Rev. L. E. Brown to repeat it that he will do so Sunday evening at 7:30. If any other daughters desire to write their views on the subject, he will be pleased to present them with those already received.

CARTHAGE BUYS A PUMPER

Adds Equipment Following Fire at Paper Box Factory

While Rushville is having some difficulty in buying additional fire fighting apparatus, because of a remonstrance filed against the bond issue, the town of Carthage has added their second fire pumper, with the addition of a new 350 gallon pumper, chemical and hose truck combined.

Carthage had a serious fire at the paper box factory mill a little more than a month ago, and the council did not wait until people had forgotten about the fire, but got busy at once and made the purchase, and the new truck was delivered this week. The new pumper will be kept at one garage and the Ford pumper will be kept at another garage.

J. L. COWING RETIRES FROM CLOTHING STORE

Quits Business After Career of 35 Years and Sells Stock to John W. Luft of Cincinnati

STOCK IS INVOICED TODAY

J. L. Cowing retired today from the clothing business, after spending thirty-five years at it, when he sold the stock of J. L. Cowing, Son and company to John W. Luft of Price Hill, Cincinnati.

The store was closed today for invoicing and will be opened Saturday under Mr. Luft's management. The new owner owns a clothing store in Price Hill and for the past several years has been traveling a part of the time. He said Mrs. Luft will move here for permanent residence at once.

Mr. Cowing started in the clothing business in the Odd Fellows building with George and Will M. Bliss, the firm being known as Bliss and Cowing. George Bliss retired from the firm and the partnership continued until four years ago when Bliss and Cowing dissolved partnership and the J. L. Cowing, Son and company was organized. They continued in the same location until January 25 of this year, when the Odd Fellows building fire practically destroyed their fixtures and stock. The company reopened for business in the present location East Second street.

Mr. Cowing stated that he would continue to live in Rushville, but that he would spend a great part of his time in Miami, Florida, on account of Mrs. Cowing's health.

BARN IS BURNED AT A LOSS OF $4,000

Fire of Unknown Origin on R. J. Hall Farm Just Northeast of Rushville Early Today

CITY PUMPER ANSWERS CALL

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a large barn early this morning on the R. J. Hall farm, just northeast of this city, on the Ft. Wayne road, causing a loss estimated at $4,000.

The barn was a large structure, containing a basement and two floors, and was located at the rear of the Hall home. The roof of the barn was ready to collapse when the fire was discovered, and it had gained too much headway to save anything, and all farming tools and grain were lost.

The pumper from the first station answered the call at three o'clock this morning, but arrived too late to be of any assistance in putting out the fire. The place is located outside of the city, and was too far from the water mains, but firemen used 40 gallons of chemicals and saved surrounding buildings. The house was threatened but did not catch fire. That a tramp might have been responsible for the fire, is the only theory advanced, as the storm of the evening had passed.

The loss of $4,000 is covered by $3,000 insurance, it was stated today.

NO VERDICT YET IN WILSON CASE

Indications This Afternoon are That Jury in Liquor Trial Will Disagree Again

HAD DELIBERATED 3 HOURS

Judge Sparks Holds Court in Another Room With Special Judge On Bench

Indications at three o'clock this afternoon were that the second attempt to convict Bert Wilson on an alleged liquor law violation would result in a disagreement, as the jury had been out for more than three hours, and no verdict reached.

The evidence this time was practically the same in the case as before, when the jury failed to agree on a verdict. The state presented their evidence yesterday afternoon, and finished and the defense had a portion of their evidence submitted yesterday and finished this morning. The arguments followed this morning and the case was given to the jury about eleven o'clock.

During the trial yesterday afternoon, special judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, who is trying the case, had to rap for order when Mrs. Wilson, wife of the defendant, was on the stand and Gates Ketchum, prosecuting attorney, asked her a question that caused the defendant to rise to his feet.

The prosecutor asked her if it were not a fact that she had been compelled to take in washings to pay the $100 fine imposed by the court on her husband in a former liquor trial.

Mr. Wilson resented the question, and suddenly jumped to his feet and started toward the prosecutor. The attorney invited him further, when the court took hand and directed the case to proceed.

The special venire of 25 names was practically used yesterday in securing the jury, and the twelve men finally selected for the case, were as follows: James Mercer, Ben Jones, C. M. George, Curtis Thrall, Charles Hinkle, Walter Richey, Ed Reeves, Jacob Hiner, J. K. Stiers, Loyd Waggoner, W. Linville and Ed B. Jackson.

In finishing up the court business before summer adjournment, several other issues were heard today by Judge Sparks in another room in the court house.

The divorce suit of Gertrude B. Dickey against Albert B. Dickey was heard, and the plaintiff was granted the divorce and custody of children. The defendant was ordered to pay $75 in back payments for support, in hereafter $15 a month.

In the divorce suit pending of Chase S. Floyd against Daisy Floyd, the court granted the change of venue from the local judge, and three judges were submitted. They are John W. Craig of Greensburg, Fremont Miller of Franklin and Rufus Hinchaw of Newcastle. Selection will be made late today. The defendant also filed a petition for the arrest of her husband on a contempt of court charge, which will be decided by the new judge.

Judge Sparks in the case of Arthur Lemon against Julius C. King, a damage suit, granted the plaintiff's motion for a change of venue, and sent the case to Greensburg for trial.

BLUE RIDGE BOYS INDICTED

Lowell Headlee Not Former Rushville Basketball Star

The Shelby county grand jury, during a short session held Thursday morning, returned an indictment against Lowell Headlee, Ralph Marshall and Harold Neeb, the Blue Ridge boys, who are charged with petit larceny, in connection with the robbing of a store. The three defendants entered pleas of not guilty and their parents provided $500 bonds.

In Rushville and Rush county there seems to be a wrong impression concerning the Headlee boy, as the name is similar to the Lowell Headlee, basketball star on the Rushville team for a number of years. The Rushville young man is now residing in Indianapolis, and his mother lives in Manila, and there is no connection between the two families.

Cox again. The addition of such influence to the Cox boom would be of inestimable value to the Ohioan.

Baker started in under most receptive circumstances.

"Go get 'em Nert, I'm for you," a delegate shouted as Baker began.

Baker's speech was frequently interrupted by handclapping. His first mention of the League of Nations brought a sharp outbreak of cheering, handclapping and finally, one after another the delegations with the exception of Wisconsin rose to their feet, waved flags and applauded.

Baker denounced the Klan and brought a number of the delegations to their feet but it was not anything like the tempestuous outbreak of two days ago when the Klan was named for the first time before the convention.

There was much spontaneous applause of Baker's remarks by individual members of many delegations. Cox, it was evident, had many friends in the convention.

George Brennan came into the hall at 12:30, shook hands with a number of delegates as he made his way to his seat and passed the word that he doubted if there would be any balloting for the nominee until after the resolutions committee had reported.

If this is the case the resolutions committee may hold up actual voting until tomorrow.

When Baker named Cox, the Ohio delegation jumped to its feet, waving hats, handkerchiefs and fans. The cheering was general throughout the hall and individuals in many delegations stood up and shouted and applauded. There was no demonstration however, as demonstrations go. The Ohio delegation started a chant "Cox—Cox—Cox—Cox" but it was not taken up around the hall.

The band played "Ohio" and Cox delegates started singing.

A little fracas broke out in the Cox delegation during the cheering when some of the delegates wanted to parade. Ed Moore, however, didn't think it timely and efforts of a few to get up the standard and be led by Ned Mahoney, son-in-law of Cox who wished to subdue premature enthusiasm, finally clashed in a momentary fight.

Nan Albert of Canton, meantime, standing immediately in back of the standard kept up a solitary demonstration with horn, bleat and handkerchief waving.

A policeman drifted over to the delegation when heated words began to be exchanged as to whether there should be a parade. Meantime the band played "Ohio" while the delegates, flanked now by five cops, settled their difficulty themselves. There was something of a gathering about the delegation when it looked as if a fight might start but everything came out alright and Chairman Walsh began rapping for order.

William H. Malony of Montana, in a seven word seconding speech for

Smith made a great hit although his hoarseness resulting from yesterday's demonstration made his voice inaudible to all but a few. He said "I second the nomination of Governor Smith."

Governor Samuel Stewart of Montana then took the platform and seconded the nomination of McAdoo. There was quite a demonstration. A pretty girl in a green dress—Miss Hortense Blecker of Houston Texas, led the cheering in her section. She hopped on a chair and waved a large silk American flag.

Eugene D. O'Sullivan of Omaha was recognized when the call of the roll of states reached Nebraska. O'Sullivan put in nomination Governor Charles Bryan of Nebraska, brother of Wm. J. Bryan and better known around the convention here as the tall man in glasses who wears the black skullcap.

O'Sullivan brought in once again the mention of oil but it passed unnoticed by the convention.

The speaker declared that Governor Bryan stood for such principles that "the champion of this convention could read from the 23rd Psalm the words 'thou anointed my head with oil,' without starting a riot."

He referred to Coolidge as "an accidental president."

"He does this," was O'Sullivan's slogan for Bryan.

O'Sullivan brought out a mild burst of applause for W. J. Bryan, brother of the candidate, when he referred to the prominence of the name in Democratic ranks.

At the mention of Charles Bryan's name at the end of O'Sullivan's speech, the Nebraska delegation jumped to its feet and cheered. Delegates in many other delegations also stood up and cheered.

Nevada passed and when New Hampshire was called the delegation stood and gave itself a cheer. The Hon. Clyde Keefe of New Hampshire was recognized. He placed Fred H. Brown, governor of New Hampshire, in nomination.

Keefe recounted the patriots his state had furnished the nation, particularly in the "glorious defeat of Bunker Hill" and after copious eulogies, referred to the governor as having been a ball player in the National League. New Hampshire paraded around the hall—alone—while other delegates cheered.

While the nominating speeches were in progress, the soldiers and sailors committee of New York issued a statement boosting Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York for president.

WAS CHAIRMAN OF TWO COMMITTEES

gress, Congressman Elliott explained. "After the civil war," he said, "we had only two sections, the north and the south. But sectionalism then was nothing like it is now. New York and Pennsylvania do not see things as New England does, and through the mid-dwest is another section. Views differ in the west and the northwest, and in the south there are about four sections, in all of which ideas on public questions differ."

Representative Elliott's committee heard three election cases during the past session, one from New York, one from Chicago and another from East St. Louis.

In the New York case (the nineteenth district) the committee voted to unseat Sol Bloom, a millionaire, because of alleged fraud, but the radical bloc from the northwest voted with the minority and enabled Bloom to remain in congress. In the Chicago case, the election was contested on account of the closeness of the vote. The democrat was finally declared the candidate, elected, the committee finding that he had won by 42 votes. The house sustained the committee in this report.

Sandwichmen Heckle Delegates

Factional comments on various platform issues were waved in the eyes of delegates to the Democratic Convention when a veritable gauntlet of sign bearers, in all sorts of garbs, had to be run by persons attending. Convention fans bore a pacifistic slogan, "Law, Not War." Pickets carried signs reading "Jaw, Not Law" and "Outlaw War" signed by the "Bunk Peace Prizers." Another picket was made up to resemble Wm. Anderson, former anti-saloon league chief in New York, now in prison.

CONVENTION
SIDELIGHTS

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Madison Square Garden, New York June 27—Major J. A. White who is broadcasting the Democratic convention for the Radio Corporation, sends his respects to the Ku Klux Klan. If they don't like what's going on in Madison Square Garden they needn't write to him about it.

Major White is in receipt of numerous hot letters and telegrams from Klan sympathizers in all parts of the country who objected to his description of the big anti-klan demonstration on Wednesday. They accused him of partiality and other things not so nice.

As official broadcaster, Major White says he proposes to tell the world just what's going on at the Garden.

The benign shade of Thomas Jefferson, which hovered over the convention hall shedding harmony on the opening sessions, was fading out today like the Cheshire cat of Alice in Wonderland.

The delegates were all Democrats when it started out, now they're Smith Democrats, McAdoo Democrats, "dark horse" Democrats, and the battle is on.

At first the delegates and the leaders, too, sat smiling in approval or patiently bearing with the flood of oratory loosed by the spell-binders.

Now "boss" Brennan of Illinois leaves his seat and stumps angrily to a conference with his henchmen.

Breckenridge Long, leader of the McAdoo forces, his face a thunder-cloud above his melting high collar and his ice-cream suit, is never in any one place for long. Smiles have given way to scowls.

From now on reports of the speeches, even invitations will be looked upon critically. The plea of Congressman Fitzgerald that the convention shouldn't sit last night because of an invitation to an entertainment for the delegates, drew a heated, scornful reply from the McAdoo crowd—they were here for business, not for pleasure.

ONE DEATH AND 7 INJURED

Kansas City, Mo., June 27—One was killed and seven injured today in the most severe rain hail and wind storm experienced in Kansas City in a decade. Rain fell in sheets, flooding streets and causing streams to rise to flood stages.

ATTEND COMRAD'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Brumfield Turner, a Civil War veteran who died suddenly this week at his home in Greensburg, were held Thursday afternoon in that city, and several of his former comrades from here attended the services. The deceased was a member of the 123 regiment, infantry, during the war, and was associated in the same company with Dan M. Kinney, L. B. Downey and Will A. Smith of this county, all of whom attended the funeral. The deceased was formerly court bailiff at

TO PLAY BATESVILLE SUNDAY

Rushville Base Ball Club Will Take To The Road

The Rushville baseball club will take to the road on Sunday, when they play the Batesville Orioles in that city.

The Batesville team was scheduled to play here last Sunday, but the game was canceled on account of other attractions. The local team will make the trip in machines, and several followers will go with them. Batesville has a fast team of players, and the locals will have to exert themselves in order to put across a win. The regular line-up will be played with Fultz on the mound and Byrne on the receiving end. On the following Sunday, the Brookville aggregation is booked for a game in this city.

Cursing or blessing?—Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord.

Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is: Jeremiah 17:5, 7.

Prayer:—O Lord, Thine art our strength and our everlasting reward.

On The Free List

The statement that the present tariff law imposes enormously increased taxes upon everything the farmers buy would be important if true. Any fair minded inspection of the tariff law will show that it is untrue. Here are some of the things which the farmer as distinguished from the rest of the people of the country, must buy for his agricultural operations and they are all on the free list, not taxed at all:

"Plow, tooth or disk harrows, headers, harvesters, reapers, agricultural drills and planters, mowers, horse rakes, cultivators.

"Threshing machines, cotton gins, machinery for use in the manufacture of sugar, wagons, and carts, cream separators not valued at more than $50 each, and all other agricultural implements of any kind or description, not specifically provided for, whether in whole or in parts, including repair parts.

"Arsenic and sulphur, used in insect sprays.

"Bones, used for fertilizers, potash, used for fertilizers; muriate of potash, sodium nitrate, potassium nitrate, calcium nitrate, phosphates, used for fertilizers; guano, manures, and all other substances used chiefly for fertilizers.

"Barbed wire, lumber, rough or sawed, planed, tongued or grooved, clapboards, laths, shingles.

"Binding twine, harness, saddles, boots and shoes made in chief value of leather.

"Kerosene, gasoline, paraffin, sheep dip.

The truth is that the man or organization making the statement that the tariff "imposes enormously increased taxes upon everything the farmer buys" cannot substantiate that statement by mentioning specific articles.

The Simple Faith

Chauncey M. DePew, not long ago, in recalling experiences of his boyhood in a village on the Hudson, said that almost from infancy to old age, everybody went to church.

"The gatherings there for Sunday services," he said, "The Sunday school, the weekly prayer meeting and the social service work were periods of intense community interest."

How vastly different from this was that day. Now, only a comparatively few go to church either on Sunday or for the weekly activities.

Is it possible that the people of his day, not having the counter attractions of the present generation, should not be given too much credit for their faithful performance of religious duties?

Rather, is it not true that the amusements of almost a century ago had the same appeal to people, though not so elaborate and varied as now?

Though steam was followed by electricity, by radio and radium and discovery has revealed the secrets of nature and overcome the handicaps of health and longevity, there is no reason for soul starvation.

Though some preachers want their independence and weaken reverence by denying the divinity of Christ, there is no reason for the pews being emptied.

The numbers of the appalling tragedies of the great war and of political revolutions do not require assaults on faith to wake up and interest people, but a revival of the simpler life and comforting belief of normal times.

Some people hide behind the excuses that the churches are full of hypocrites and that Christianity is divided into numberless sects and creeds, but this is not tenable ground.

The world will have to get back to the simple faith and practices of the forefathers, as described by Mr. DePew, before any progress is made in the direction of building up the shaken foundations of the church.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO, TODAY

From Daily Republican
Monday, June 28, 1909

Terrifying was the electrical wind and rain storm which swept over this community at an early hour this morning. People were aroused from their peaceful slumbers and in some instances near the spots where the lightning struck, they were tossed about in their beds. The lightning struck the home of Capt. J. B. Reeve, A large tree in the yard of Phillip Miller in North Willow street, was struck by lightning and the tree "grounded".

What is said to be the largest tree in Rush county was cut down on the farm of Jacob Blackledge, northeast of this city, Saturday by Case and Joyce. The big growth was of the pin oak variety and measured forty-six inches in diameter.

Official's Day was very appropriately observed at the First Presbyterian church Sabbath morning. The church officials were seated in a body on the pulpit rostrum and a number of these had minor parts on the program.

E. E. Hungerford of this county, prominent in local and State Sunday school work, was elected one of the directors of the State Board at the State convention of Sunday schools in Lafayette last week.

Wallace, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Beer, slipped and fell in South Jackson street yesterday afternoon and received a painful cut on the calf of his left limb. His leg struck an old tin can which inflicted the wound.

The members of the local chapter of the Psi Chi sorority are preparing to camp on the Alexander farm, northeast of this city.

Mrs. Walter Hubbard was taken from the Sexton sanitarium to her home in West Second street in a much improved condition.

Miss Celia Foster is slowly recovering from a severe spell of sickness at the home of her sister, Mrs. Marie Toolen on North Morgan street.

The Misses Lorena and Leona Thomas of Arlington will give a violin and piano recital at St. Paul's M. E. church Friday night. Miss Leona is a twelve-year-old musical prodigy and has attracted attention from a number of talented musicians. She will be heard at the local chautauqua this year.

Roy Aldridge will leave tomorrow for Pittsburgh, Pa., where he has accepted a position with the Westinghouse Electric Co.

Mrs. J. A. Powell and grand daughter Miss Lillian Hurst are visiting Mrs. Powell's son in Greentown.

George Hogsett, who has been attending school in Chicago, came yesterday evening to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogsett in West Second street.

NUMBER SEVEN THE SEXTON HOSPITAL

As I entered number seven
Me tho't, perhaps, my way to Heaven
Tho' it did not seem to matter much to me.
Just a little disillusion,
Just a little more confusion,
I was forced to go to bed immediately.

Just a way of introduction
Of their wonderful production,
And a kindergarten knowledge of the fact.

If I did not really mind it
I'd have ample time to find it—
I was really facing Heaven—on my back.

Then they looked me o'er a little,
At the back and 'round the middle,
And forthwith they shot my maddled mind to sleep,
And the doctors and the nurses
Followed in my wake with curses
Just in answer to a tryst I was to keep.

As I wakened from my slumber,
And am back in my old number
Let me tell you what the doctors did to me
I am sure that you will doubt it—
Not believe if I would shout it—
They had punched a hole clear thro' from A to Z.

They had taken cat-gut fiddle,
And tried to cover up their muddle,
And my nights were filled with torture and with pain (?)

The nurses do not seem to know it,
And how plainly they do show it—
That the nightmares which I suffer is their gain.

There is Denny—there is Posey,
They are little girls—but rosy,
Tho' I'll swear that they were always good to me.

There is Haughey and there is Eakins
With much credit to their makings
But they were the stingiest mortals that could be.

Mrs. Elrod held the castle,
And I knew no good to wrestle,
Tho' she came with knives and gauze and iodine.

Tho' the doctors planned my Exit,
And the nurses helped complex it,
Zacharias does not take to things so mean.

There is Ella—dear old Ella
Could there be a better fellow?
For she let me have the nicest books to read.

There is Jonesy in the kitchen,
With her radiant smile, bewitchin',
Who knows how to cook the things the patients need.

There is Billie, walking, walking,
And that never endless talking,
And that squeaky, squawky chatter all about.

Oh! that chatter, chatter, chatter,
As if void of all gray matter—
It's Polly hanging with her beak upon the ground.

Listen to that Heavenly carol!
Well we know it must be Harold—
Little Harold's soul vibrating on the harp.

It's the only real diversion,
And an opportune diversion
Of the moans and sighs that greet us in the dark.

Am I ever asked about it,
I will say—yet you may doubt it—
It's the nicest, grandest place I'll ever roam.

When I take my pack and leave it,
It to me—will you believe it?
When I leave, will be to me, like leaving home.

SAFETY SAM

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK—Not the least of the considerations guiding the Democrats as they grope for new combinations from which to evolve a presidential ticket is the matter of campaign slogans. For, after all, a catch phrase may be a more powerful factor in building up popular support than mere matters of a candidate's political or economic viewpoint.

With "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge" as the high point in Republican sloganeering to date, the Democrats are seeking a candidate on whom can be hung a phrase still more stimulating.

McAdoo boosters believe the most effective campaigning could be done through buttons and banners picturing the Democratic rooster, with arched neck and flapping wings, emitting a new challenge.

Instead of crowing "Cock-a-doodle do!" according to standardized barnyard formula, this rooster would raise the roof with "McAdoo'll do! McAdoo'll do!"

As an immediate counter-irritant to the "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge" cry, pending final selection of a candidate, a new version has been started at national committee headquarters asking that the country "Keep Cool Without Coolidge."

This, however, it is realized, is only a stop-gap. It merely temporizes with the slogan situation. It is plainly defensive, not offensive, as a truly good slogan should be.

"Al's our pal. He'll beat Cal," is the suggestion from Franklin Roosevelt and Norman Mack of the Smith outfit.

"Catchy, but lacking punch," is the comment of on-the-fence delegates to this Smith phrase.

"Davis and Davis: they can save us!" is the proposal of certain dark horse boosters who are combining in one cry the names of a combination ticket that has caught considerable favor.

"John and Jonathan," is a secondary cry that could be evolved from this ticket, which, as may be seen, possesses undoubted elements of real strength.

For the men proposed to be united under these battle-cries are John W. Davis, of West Virginia, and New York, a "safe and sane progressive," a lawyer and a diplomat, and Jonathan M. Davis, honest-to-goodness dirt farmer, at present governor of Kansas.

"Davis and Davis," say backers of this pair, could sweep the country. "John W. would account for everything east of the Alleghenys, Jonathan M. for everything in the middle west and west. The south, being Democratic, would take care of itself."

PSYCHOLOGICALLY, the heavy-handed handicap carried by Sam Ralston of Indiana is his unavailability as a subject for snappy slogans. No one can figure out how to rouse enthusiasm with Ralston. No one denies his ability, his sincerity, honesty or his political strength, but popular strength as well as personal and political strength will be needed to warm the voters sufficiently to offset the Coolidge coolness.

And right there is where the Carter Glass boosters find an opening for their candidate.

"Let the light in with Glass," they suggest. "Glass will warm things up. Under Glass the Coolidge coolness can be made to run. If it is ice it will melt; if it is fog it will be dissipated."

Who'll be the candidate? Why, it's a cinch! Glass! That's clear!"

ONE of the impressive things in the early stages of the convention, to those who followed the preliminary jockeying of the pre-convention period, is the apparent insignificance of the Underwood strength.

Outside the Underwood headquarters and the Alabama delegation little attention seems to be given the Alabama senator. Either it has flattened out or Ollie Newman and C. C. Carlin, his managers, have a surprise up their sleeve.

They appear cheerful enough. Perhaps they will prove political magicians and still pull out the sizeable vote.

People who magnify the faults of others are always the last to see their own.

There ought to be medals for stenographers who do the mass of public-spirited work for which their bosses get credit.

It's easy to be generous with other people's money.

People who are stingy with thanks seldom ever have any opportunity to extend them.

Some delegates to the New York convention took it literally and decided that a political fight was all that the words imply.

Mrs. Davis Recovers Strength

The following statement contained in a letter from Mrs. Alice Davis of Jamestown, N. Y., should bring hope to other women who are in the same condition she was. She says: "I was nervous and weak with pains in my back, no ambition, and utterly discouraged, and could not sit up all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength so I am now running a rooming house and do all the work." Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is pre-eminent success in overcoming such troubles and it will pay any suffering woman to try it.

Praise-Criticism-Suggestions-Contributions Letters to the Editor

Outlawing Militarism

The editor of the Republican will not "think hard" of me for getting my topics from his editorials, even when they are not agreeable to "my sentiments". More often than otherwise however, these editorials are the best that come to my desk from eleven different publications that come regularly. It is the purpose of this article to glance at the last paragraph of an editorial entitled "Preparedness."

"So long as might, instead of mind rules in world councils, the United States must be prepared for any emergency."

World Peace is yet in the making, and any earnest effort along that line—though it does not accord with our own views—is a valuable addition to what has already been attained. To carelessly disregard the efforts of one who is trying to bring about the "brotherhood of man" would be as rash as to laugh at the man who invented the steam engine, because his engine looks comical in the presence of the modern type of locomotive.

Universal Peace is largely visionary, but the "vision" has always been a forerunner of reality. The "law of peace" even in the heart of the individual is constantly being debated, as he goes like a tenderfoot feeling his way in order to see just how far he is justified in giving rein to a doctrine that has been held in the background by military programs for twenty centuries. "When he was reviled, he reviled not again, when he suffered he threatened not" nearly breaks the heart of the stoutest Christian to practice in daily life. Extending this doctrine to his country, his state, his nation and the world requires an understanding and a heart of faith that is almost too much for an unregenerated man.

On the other hand, every movement that deserves the name of reform must have a beginning somewhere and at some specific time: will the editor kindly tell us just where and when to begin the "mind rule" program? One cannot help asking, if six years after the greatest conflict of all time, in "a war to end wars" and with the nations now more fully armed than at the beginning of that conflict, is not a propitious time to launch a world crusade against the spirit of militarism? Shall we wait until that old Goliath Military Law stalks abroad in the world before we lift a feeble solitary voice against his armor plate? This would indeed require the faith of a David!

Was Christ jesting when he said, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you?" Was it a mere coincidence that the "Bible Thought for the Day" on this same page and in this same column was "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory?"

Looking back through the pages of history, and reading the record of the early Christians whose lives shone like jewels in a dark night of paganism when their bodies were used as inflammable material to light up bacchanalian revelry, and thinking how their numbers increased under persecution; one is constrained to believe that Constantine—the first Christian Emperor—wrongly interpreted his vision when he lifted the Cross and the Sword together, and that in this error the Devil made his greatest inroad of all the Christian centuries.

"By this conquer" said the vision—for that is the literal interpretation of the Greek and Latin words—and Constantine made an emblem of the cross, retaining the sword, and as a result, the Christian conquest of the world has had to wait until the military program is finished. In the light of the true spiritual meaning of "the cross" one could now sing: "In the cross of Christ I glory towering o'er the wrecks of time; all the light of sacred story gathers 'round its head sublime!"

Sick and tired of recent years of conflict, a selfrighteous world is trying to find its way back to the cross. But, have you never noticed how good every one is? One seldom, if ever, finds a "sinner". Oh, how lonesome Paul would be in this crowd! And yet, if Christ should come tomorrow he would say: "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish."

No! there is no healing power in militarism; instead, it is a delusion and a snare. If the "way of the cross" does not lead the world home to God, then there is no hope and no salvation.

PUBLIC LINKS TOURNEY

Dayton, Ohio, June 27—The national public links championship had been narrowed down to eight contestants this morning through the process of elimination in the qualifying rounds. The gallery seemed of the opinion that Joe Ford of New York and Frank Dolph of Portland, Ore., were the strongest players left in the tournament.

KEEN COMPETITION IN FIELD EVENTS

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 27—America should pick up about 70 points in the field events at Paris.

This is a modest calculation, well within the team's ability.

In some events, there will scarcely be a flag on the pole save the Stars and Stripes; in some, it must be admitted, our team probably will not win a place.

When we consider the performance of the shot-putters at Cambridge a couple of days before the American contingent sailed for Paris, and realize that Charley Eastman of Harvard and Lieutenant Liversedge, U. S. N., couldn't even qualify with heaves of 47 feet 3 inches, we realize how preponderant is this country's strength in this event. There are few weight men in Europe doing better than 45 feet, and the best of our men—"Bud" Houser and Glen Hartranft from the east coast—will do better than 50 feet next month.

In the javelin throw and the discus, however, anything the United States gets will be welcome. The showing made by our javelin hurlers at the final tryouts at Cambridge was woefully weak. From the press box, it looked as though Wheelbell, Neufeldt and Priester were handling their javelins rather clumsily, and all had trouble with the line from behind, which they were required to throw.

"Bud" Houser figures in the discus throw, too, but we are weak in this event, and might as well admit it. J. T. Lieb and Augustus Pope, both of the Illinois, A. C., are about our best and they should be badly beaten, unless they produce unlooked-for ability.

In the pole vault, it is just the other way. We have Spearow of Oregon, Lee Barnes, the high school kid from Hollywood; Jim Brooker of Michigan and George Graham of California Tech, all capable of better than 13 feet. They might well be tied for first place against the world, although if Hoff, the great Scandinavian vaulter, is in shape, he has bettered 13 feet 6 inches. Hoff had the misfortune to tear the ligaments in his leg while training early this month, and was advised not to enter the Olympics.

Our high jumpers are the best of the world, Osborne and LeRoy Brown particularly, with Tom Poor likely to beat either of them. The United States should account for first and several other places in the high jump.

lose his cue. But Director Clarence Badger, although kept on "needles and pins," did not object very strenuously, for the jokes gave the action a spirit of spontaneity which made it doubly convincing.

Vera Gordon is co-starred with Bernard and Carr in "Potash and Perlmutter," which was adapted from the famous play by Montague Glass.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero: Eddie Rommel ended the winning streak of the league-leading Senators by letting them down with two hits in the second game yesterday. Walter Johnson shut out the Athletics in the first game and Senators won 5-0. They dropped the second 1-0.

The dizzy descent of the Champion Yanks continued. The Red Sox pounded Cliff Markle, the new pitcher from St. Paul and won 8 to 5. Ruth went hitless.

Decatur went wild in the ninth and the Phils routed the Robins 3-2.

Johnny Morrison out-pitched Vic Aldridge and the Pirates made it two straight from the Cubs 2-1.

Pfeffer out-pitched Benton to give the Cards a 2-1 victory over the Reds.

"Love" Aria

Here you have Mary Garden as she appeared in the court scene singing the "love" aria to beat the duce in her latest success, "La Tenuis." The diva is at Monte Carlo preparing to return to America.

WALTER HAGEN IS FAVORITE

Perfect Weather Attends British Open Championship Play

E. R. Whitcomb continued his stellar golfing during the third round play, finishing with an aggregate of 224. MacDonald Smith finished the third round with a total of 227.

Gene Sarazen finished the third round with a 242.

R. Norris Williams easily defeated A. N. W. Dudley, in the opening match, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

HARRY GREB UNABLE TO PUT OVER KNOCKOUT

Middle-weight Champion Meets a Tartar in Ted Moore From Across The Atlantic

EVENTS AT MILK FUND SHOW

New York, June 27—From over around the English channel has come another fighting machine with a heart and an iron jaw—Ted Moore.

For 15-rounds last night he stayed on while 40,000 fight fans urged Harry Greb, middle-weight champion, to put over the knockout. It was the feature event of the Milk Fund show at the Yankee stadium and Moore lost the decision in 15 rounds but won plaudits by his gameness.

In the semi-wind up Ermino Spalla the European heavyweight champion got smashed with everything Gene Tunney offered for seven rounds before the fight was ended. The referee gave Tunney a technical knockout.

Officials gave Young Stribling of Georgia the decision over Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia in six rounds. The crowd boomed.

Only one title changed hands, that of colored middleweight champion. Larry Estridge won it from Panama Joe Gans after ten rounds of vicious boxing.

The two Barnes brothers—Jess and Virgil—both went to the showers while the Giants won from the Braves 8-1.

A tenth inning rally of three runs gave the Indians a 7 to 4 victory over the White Sox.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S.S.S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S.S.S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S.S.S. that did it."

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

DAVIS OF KANSAS
(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—"The people everywhere, but more especially in the middle-west and the great north west in the agricultural sections are looking for you, demanding something more tangible than calling attention to the acts and noble deeds of the past." Representative W. A. Ayers of Kansas asserted in placing the name of Governor Jonathan W. Davis of Kansas in nomination before the national Democratic convention.

He assailed the Republican agricultural platform, asserting it held nothing for the farmer and said that one "reactionary party is more than a majority of the people of the country want."

The people are demanding a forceful executive of the nation who will inspire confidence in congress of his leadership and the candidate must possess as well the ability to equalize and adjust differences between the legislature and the chief executive, he said.

Davis, he continued, possesses all these qualifications, is a progressive and a fair representative in its truest sense of the progressive West. In addition he is a real dirt farmer.

CARTER GLASS

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—Carter Glass was placed in nomination by Senator Swanson who claimed for his state the privilege of naming the Democratic nominee "after more than half a century of unselfish service."

He presented the former secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration as "a combination of strength, a candidate of national thought, a national in patriotism, who has and will be a nationalist in accomplishment."

"We need a man too honest to be corrupted by the rich and too brave to be coerced by the demagogues, who will keep the temple of our government free alike from the greedy money-changers and the plundering rabble," Senator Swanson declared.

"We need a man who has more intellectual and moral wealth than material wealth."

"Recognizing fully the imperative demands of the hour, completely conscious of the conditions which should attach to the nomination and election of the man to be the next president of the United States, I present to you as measuring up to all these needs, Carter Glass, of the Old Dominion."

"He possesses a rare combination of capacity, character and courage. Glass exceeds alike in wisdom and resolution."

"To him the country is indebted for the Federal Reserve Act," the speaker declared, "for the first time under this act the reserves of the national banks were made available to the farmers. Hundreds of farmers have enjoyed its manifold benefits."

"Glass," his nominator said, "has ever extended sympathetic and cordial support to labor."

He has been the consistent and efficient champion of agriculture, the speaker said, and he is liberal and progressive without being a destructive radical.

GEORGE S. SILZER

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—Pointing out that Woodrow Wilson was nominated for president in Baltimore 12 years ago this week, John A. Matthews drew an analogy between the career of Wilson and Governor George S. Silzer, whose name he placed in nomination for the presidency at the national Democratic convention.

Asserting that Silzer possesses the same ideals as Wilson and is "a patriot of the truest type," he urged the convention to name Silzer as the party's standard bearer because his would be a leadership that would be practical, progressive, statesman-like and honest and unafraid.

He pointed out that in Silzer's early career he was opposed by Wilson but that Wilson soon recognized his ability after he came to know his ideals and appointed him to an official position in his county in which office he was retained by the voters.

"New Jersey's governor is a leader of incomparable type," Matthews said. "He has crowded into one year of service as chief executive of our state constructive accomplishments that look to the very essence of governmental well being. Corruption, the foe of all honest government had been rearing its faithful head in the extensive highway program of our state. Six days after our candidate was inaugurated governor he removed the majority of the members which were of his own party. Out of that battle he emerged a victor."

"Honesty of purpose and of action are the main springs of his private and official conduct. He believes that God made law and man-made law are as binding upon business as upon individuals. He is the truest sense of the word a progressive and a progressive is one who applies the principles of successful business to the business of government."

JAMES M. COX

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—A call to the Democratic convention to stick to the principles of Woodrow Wilson and renominate James M. Cox of Ohio as presidential candidate was sounded by Newton D. Baker in a speech placing Cox in nomination before the Democratic convention.

"There is nobility in a defeat when it is but a temporary set-back in the assertion of principles eternally true," Baker said at the outset in referring to the overwhelming majority piled up against Cox in the last presidential election when he stressed the advisability of American entrance into the Wilson League of Nations.

"Those who have suffered such defeat, when they meet again, know that they are soon to gather the fruits of their waiting, and their faith."

"Truths which are great enough to be worth while must struggle for their place and do battle against prejudice and inertia, but after a while because they are true, they become axioms. Opposition at the outset confident and obstinate, fades away and those who early believed and long labored to vindicate the truth, witness with joy another forward step in the silent march of human progress."

"In national affairs we can be neither reactionary nor radical, but we must in both platform and candidate, satisfy that liberal sentiment which knows that growth is the law of life. Our task is to make a program so constructive and enthralling as will draw men away from the petty and futile, and devote them, as crusaders are devoted, to causes which are intrinsically worth while."

Baker denounced the Republican administration for its failure to follow the leadership of Wilson's foreign policies.

Diseases traced to constipation are many—get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

Why does constipation breed other diseases? Because it floods your system with dangerous poisons. And the longer you suffer, the more poisons accumulate. That is why constipation should be relieved at once.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results because it is ALL bran. And only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective in relieving constipation.

ALL bran—Kellogg's—sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts as nature acts. It makes the intestine function naturally and regularly. If eaten regularly, it will bring permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation—is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns your money.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful Kellogg flavor—so crisp and nut-like—so different from ordinary bran, which are most unpalatable.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. And by all means try it in the recipes given on every package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Hot weather and touring tend to overcharge and overheat batteries. Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation gives you extra protection against the effects of overheating. Being made largely of rubber, it does not "burn out".

This has saved many a battery which otherwise would have been a total loss. And Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries cost no more than many wood-insulated batteries.

"Skofflaw" Statue Squelched

This is the statue of Father Knickerbocker that caused all the trouble. Placed above the Hotel Astor as a welcome sign to Democratic Convention visitors in New York it showed the traditional figure holding a huge stein of beer—real, frothy beer, such as symbolized hospitality in the Knickerbocker era. But forms of hospitality change and so thousands were shouting "skofflaw" as they passed the statue. It was declared a symbol of wet revolt. Father Knickerbocker said he would rather lose his good right arm than his stein. And so they saved off his arm, and in place of the stein now stands a formal "Welcome"—as the picture shows.

'GAS' TAX PAYS STATE BIG SUM

Highway Commission Has Received More Than Four Million Dollars on the Two Cent Levy

APPEAL SUIT IS PENDING

Decision Expected Within Two Weeks by Supreme Court. Following Ruling in Joseph County

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—The state highway commission has been paid $4,440,000.00 collected under the Gasoline Tax Law by state auditor Robert Bracken according to records of the auditors office.

The measure which imposed a two-cent levy on each gallon of gasoline sold has been declared unconstitutional by the St. Joseph Superior Court and an appeal to the Supreme Court is hanging fire.

The case might be decided within the next two weeks, if a petition is made to the court to have the case placed on its advance docket.

A question has been raised as to how the state would reimburse the tax collected if the measures found faulty by the high court.

Decision on the case would probably come before adjournment of the present term of court July 3 if either

BAR MEMBERS TO FAVOR BILL

Provides For Adequate Filing Room For Records of State Supreme and Appellate Courts

INADEQUATE FACILITIES

All the Appeals, Which Constitute Hundreds of Pounds of Records, Are Stored in Basement

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Bar Associations in all parts of the state are going on record as favorable to a bill which will probably be presented to the next session of the legislature providing for adequate filing room for the records of the state supreme and appellate courts.

Present facilities of the clerk of the court to properly care for the records are inadequate are a great fire hazard to the statehouse as well.

All the appeals, which sometimes in just one case, will constitute hundreds of pounds of bound typewritten records are stored in a basement room at the statehouse.

It is necessary almost daily to rummage through the appeal briefs to retrieve records which are temporarily withdrawn for retrial cases and other causes.

Among the other causes they range from getting plats of towns to getting last photographs of dead relatives.

It recently occurred that a case in a circuit court demanded as evidence, a copy of the original platting of a town. It happened that the plat contained in an appeal case was the only one obtainable. It was rummaged for, photostatic prints, made and the print used as evidence.

In another case, grand children of a dead man petition the court for withdrawal of six pictures which had been submitted along with appeal briefs. The court allowed the request and prints were made from them. They were the only pictures of the dead man in existence.

In many other cases the records

are invaluable to attorneys, even after decision has been made by the court.

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS HOW TANLAC HELPED MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse is Firm Believer in Tanlac and Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million Bottles sold.

KLAN FIGHT TO BE CARRIED TO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION FLOOR

Four Members of Resolutions Committee Demanding Organization be Named to Make Minority Report

NIGHT SESSION AGREED ON

Floor Fight on League of Nations Plank Also Certain. Due to Demand for U. S. Entrance

FAVORITE SONS HAVE DAY

Former Governor Cox and Others Who are Present, are Accorded Demonstration

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27—The bitter fight on the Klan issue which for two days has been kept under cover in the executive sessions of the resolutions committee, may be brought into the open tonight when the democratic national convention meets for an evening session.

Leaders have definitely agreed to recess after all nominating speeches have been made this afternoon until eight o'clock.

One of the first demands will be for a report from the resolutions committee. If the committee is ready the platform may be reported along with such minority reports as may be returned.

A fight on the convention floor over the Klan was made certain this afternoon when the sub-committee voted ten to four to submit a plank to the full committee denouncing the principals of the Klan but not naming it. The plank demanding that the Klan be named will submit a minority report and the floodgates of debate will then be opened.

A floor fight on the league is also certain. Former Secretary of War Baker will not consent to any change in his proposal that the league be endorsed and that the party be pledged to American entrance. The sub-committee is presenting this question to the full committee, but Baker declares that if his plan is not adopted as it stands, he will make a minority report and take the floor to fight for his principals.

The McAdoo forces have been seeking to bring on a situation that would force the convention to start balloting before the platform is reported. They will have to muster a two-thirds majority to bring about this change in the rules.

Early in the afternoon there was still doubt whether the resolutions committee would be ready to make its report tonight.

The dark horses and favorite sons had their day in the convention today as runners-up to the big Smith show of yesterday. Former Governor Cox of Ohio and others who were presented were accorded demonstrations of varying intensities but none approached the blow-off staged for McAdoo and Smith.

Meanwhile Tom Taggart of Indiana was moving about smiling and confident that Senator Sam Ralston will

Candidates For President Placed in Nomination

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27—The following candidates for President have been placed in nomination before the Democratic convention.

Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama.
Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.
William Gibbs McAdoo of California.
Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana.
William Saulsbury of Delaware.
David E. Houston of New York.
Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.
Governor Jonathan M. Davis of Kansas.
Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan.
James M. Cox, of Ohio.
Governor Charles Bryan of Nebraska.
Governor Fred Brown of New Hampshire.
Governor George Silser of New Jersey.

TODAY'S DOINGS IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Convention called to order at 11:41 by Chairman Walsh.

Invocation by Rev. Dwight W. Wylie, of New York.

William J. Quinn of St. Paul seconded the nomination of Governor Al Smith.

Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker placed in nomination for the presidency James M. Cox of Ohio. Wm. H. Mahoney, seconded the nomination of Al Smith.

Governor Samuel Stewart, Montana, seconded the nomination of Wm. G. McAdoo.

Eugene O'Sullivan of Omaha placed Governor Charles W. Bryan, brother of Wm. Jennings Bryan in nomination.

He the nominee, Tom Taggart has kept out of the Klan fight to date, letting George Brennan of Illinois, the Smith managers and McAdoo forces tangle themselves up in it as much as they like.

"We are simply swimming close to shore in quiet waters," said Taggart, "but when the break comes, watch us."

David Rockwell, McAdoo's manager, stated at 1:20 that the leaders of the different factions had agreed to a recess after the nominating speeches were concluded until eight o'clock tonight. This was confirmed by George Brennan.

There was doubt, however whether the platform committee would be ready to report in time and make a meeting this evening worth while. Rockwell said that if it appeared the platform committee would not be ready, the McAdoo supporters would make no effort to effect suspension of the rules so that balloting could begin. It has been decided that if the platform committee is not ready to report there will be adjournment until tomorrow.

Chairman Walsh slammed down his gavel calling for order at 11:41. The galleries were only partially filled when quiet was obtained and Chairman Walsh introduced Rev. Dwight W. Wylie, pastor of Central Presbyterian church of New York to deliver the invocation.

As the convention got under way it was noted that George Brennan, Ed Moore, Thomas Taggart and others of the anti-McAdoo forces were not in their seats.

After a few announcements by the secretary, the call of the roll of the states for nominations and seconds was resumed. Minnesota led off in the person of Wm. J. Quinn of St. Paul, who seconded the nomination of Al Smith.

Quinn got a big hand in mentioning Smith's name and there were whistles, cheers, applause and the inevitable band.

The roll call was resumed. Mississippi yielded to Ohio. There was an outburst of applause as it was realized the standard bearer of four years ago was about to be placed in nomination again. Newton D. Baker mounted the platform and virtually all the delegations on the floor rose to their feet and cheered. The fact that Mississippi yielded to Ohio and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, the keynoter, was one of the Cox floor leaders at San Francisco four years ago caused general belief that Harrison had decided to lineup with McAdoo and Smith.

Meantime Tom Taggart of Indiana was moving about smiling and confident that Senator Sam Ralston will

ROBBERY SUSPECT IS HELD

Indianapolis Man Quizzed in Connection With Ayres Robbery

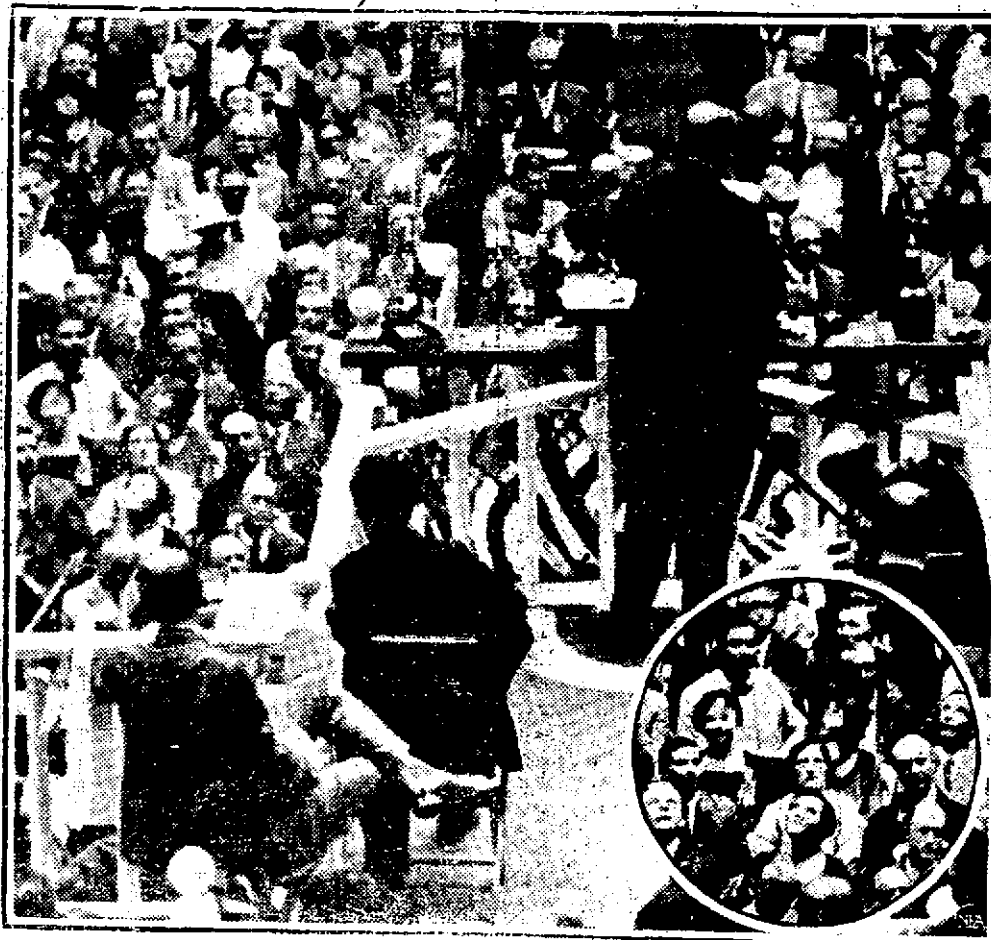

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27—Police today arrested and quizzed an Indianapolis man as to his whereabouts on the night of the robbery of the L. S. Ayres store.

The man, whose name was withheld, was held under high bond on a vagrancy charge.

Another valuable clue was given police by a woman who saw two men inspecting the exterior of the store the day before the robbery.

The two men inspected the air ducts and grating in the rear of the store and one of the men sketched something on a piece of paper.

CONVENTION REVEALS CROWD PSYCHOLOGY

This is a photograph of mental attitude. Occasionally motion pictures reveal thoughts of actors. Rarely is a mental process caught in one photograph. Notice the attitude of the delegates assembled in the Democratic Convention Hall at New York. Specially the women in the inset group. The picture, taken in one of those frequent moments of apathy that come in a spirited gathering, shows that little attention is being paid to the speaker.

SMITH MEN CLAIM VICTORY ON TENTH

Adherents of New York Governor Feel Certain he Will be Nominated For President

HAPPY OVER FIRST SKIRMISH

By PERCY B. SCOTT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 27—Having staged their "show" the managers of Governor Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination went to work again today to bring to fruition their plan of extending the Sidewalks of New York to Washington.

Confident that Wm. G. McAdoo is beaten and equally confident that they have sufficient votes to nominate their candidate, the Smith men today claimed the empire state governor would "go over on the tenth ballot."

The were enthusiastic over their first skirmish with the forces of the California late yesterday in which they forced an adjournment today when the westerner and his backers wanted a night session. Actually the fight was between McAdoo group on the one side and all the anti-McAdoo men on the other, but it was engineered and captained by the New Yorkers.

The governor planned to keep in touch with the situation by telephone today from his suite in the hotel Biltmore.

WAS CHAIRMEN OF TWO COMMITTEES

Representative R. N. Elliott, Visiting Here Today, Gives Some Idea of Duties of a Congressman

HAD TO SIT ON THE LID

As Head of Buildings and Grounds Committee, 6th District Congressman Held off Raids

Some idea of the duties of a congressman, aside from attending sessions and voting on bills, may be gained from the experiences of Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, representative of the sixth Indiana district who was visiting friends in Rushville today.

Congressman Elliott is chairman of the elections committee and was acting chairman of the public buildings and grounds committee of the house, and in addition to hearing three election contest cases, he had to sit on the lid during the whole session and try to prevent the passage of a "pork barrel" bill.

"There are 915 bills, involving appropriations of $300,000,000, pending before the public grounds and buildings committee of the house," he said.

"It was the policy of the administration, in accordance with the economy program, to hold federal improvements down to the minimum, and the committee had to hold in check the congressman who wanted appropriations demanded by their constituents."

"I voted against the appropriation bill because about $56,000,000 was tacked on to it after it came out of committee, and it was that much in excess of what the administration recommended."

"There will come a time soon, however," he continued, "when it will be economy to build more government buildings because of the exorbitant rents that are being charged in many instances."

Congress has a big problem in pacifying all of the conflicting interests that are represented in congress.

WIDOW STICKS TO HER VERSION OF SLAYING

Mrs. Vera Rogers is Unshaken in Her Testimony Regarding Murder of Her Husband

KILLED DURING MINE WAR

Boonville, Ind., June 27—Circuit court was jammed today for the third day of the trial of Bert Stanton and Bert Julian, charged with the murder of Wesley Rogers.

Mrs. Vera Rogers, widow of the slain man, stuck stoutly to her story of the killing throughout a rigid cross examination yesterday.

She said the two accused men attacked her husband and beat him to death with a club.

Attorneys for the defense were unable to shake her story in a single detail.

Rogers was killed during a miners' strike. Feeling is running high for both the defense and prosecution, and authorities are taking every precaution to prevent a demonstration in the court room.

GIVEN FULL CITIZENSHIP

Few People Here Knew John Rutledge Was Not American Citizen

John Rutledge of Newcastle, formerly of this city, was the only one out of three men given full citizenship papers by Judge Hinshaw in the Henry circuit court this week. Mr. Rutledge, a native of Scotland, came to this country when a boy, and during the years that he spent in this city, it was known by only a few persons that he was not an American citizen. While here he was active in politics and fraternal orders, and was a railroad office clerk. He passed the examination with the highest averages, and after the court had ruled on the matter, he made an eloquent talk expressing appreciation of becoming a citizen.

Mr. Rutledge is still in the railroad business, and is employed as the chief clerk at the Pennsylvania depot in Newcastle.

REPEATED BY REQUEST

Owing to the storm last Sunday evening many people who desired to hear the sermon at the Main Street Christian church on "Parents as Their Daughters See Them", were prevented from attending. So many requests have come to the Rev. L. E. Brown to repeat it that he will do so Sunday evening at 7:30. If any other daughters desire to write their views on the subject, he will be pleased to present them with those already received.

CARTHAGE BUYS A PUMPER

Adds Equipment Following Fire at Paper Box Factory

While Rushville is having some difficulty in buying additional fire fighting apparatus, because of a remonstrance filed against the bond issue, the town of Carthage has added their second fire pumper, with the addition of a new 350 gallon pumper, chemical and hose truck combined.

Carthage had a serious fire at the paper box factory mill a little more than a month ago, and the council did not wait until people had forgotten about the fire, but got busy at once and made the purchase, and the new truck was delivered this week. The new pumper will be kept at one garage and the Ford pumper will be kept at another garage.

J. L. COWING RETIRES FROM CLOTHING STORE

Quits Business After Career of 35 Years and Sells Stock to John W. Luft of Cincinnati

STOCK IS INVOICED TODAY

J. L. Cowing retired today from the clothing business, after spending thirty-five years at it, when he sold the stock of J. L. Cowing, Son and company to John W. Luft of Price Hill, Cincinnati.

The store was closed today for invoicing and will be opened Saturday under Mr. Luft's management. The new owner owns a clothing store in Price Hill and for the last several years has been traveling a part of the time. He and Mrs. Luft will move here for permanent residence at once.

Mr. Cowing started in the clothing business in the Odd Fellows building with George and Will M. Bliss, the firm being known as Bliss and Cowing. George Bliss retired from the firm and the partnership continued until four years ago when Bliss and Cowing dissolved partnership and the J. L. Cowing, Son and company was organized. They continued in the same location until January 25 of this year, when the Odd Fellows building fire practically destroyed their fixtures and stock. The company reopened for business in the present location East Second street.

Mr. Cowing stated that he would continue to live in Rushville, but that he would spend a great part of his time in Miami, Florida, on account of Mrs. Cowing's health.

BARN IS BURNED AT A LOSS OF $4,000

Fire of Unknown Origin on R. J. Hall Farm Just Northeast of Rushville Early Today

CITY PUMPER ANSWERS CALL

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a large barn early this morning on the R. J. Hall farm, just northeast of this city, on the Ft. Wayne road, causing a loss estimated at $4,000.

The barn was a large structure, containing a basement and two floors, and was located at the rear of the Hall home. The roof of the barn was ready to collapse when the fire was discovered, and it had gained too much headway to save anything, and all farming tools and grain were lost.

The pumper from the first station answered the call at three o'clock this morning, but arrived too late to be of any assistance in putting out the fire. The place is located outside of the city, and was too far from the water mains, but firemen used 40 gallons of chemicals and saved surrounding buildings. The house was threatened but did not catch fire. That a tramp might have been responsible for the fire, is the only theory advanced, as the storm of the evening had passed.

The loss of $4,000 is covered by $3,000 insurance, it was stated today.

NO VERDICT YET IN WILSON CASE

Indications This Afternoon are That Jury in Liquor Trial Will Disagree Again

HAD DELIBERATED 3 HOURS

Judge Sparks Holds Court in Another Room With Special Judge On Bench

Indications at three o'clock this afternoon were that the second attempt to convict Bert Wilson on an alleged liquor law violation would result in a disagreement, as the jury had been out for more than three hours, and no verdict reached.

The evidence this time was practically the same in the case as before, when the jury failed to agree on a verdict. The state presented their evidence yesterday afternoon, and finished and the defense had a portion of their evidence submitted yesterday and finished this morning. The arguments followed this morning and the case was given to the jury about eleven o'clock.

During the trial yesterday afternoon, special judge Fremont Miller of Franklin, who is trying the case, had to rap for order when Mrs. Wilson, wife of the defendant, was on the stand and Gates Ketchum, prosecuting attorney, asked her a question that caused the defendant to rise to his feet.

The prosecutor asked her if it were not a fact that she had been compelled to take in washings to pay the $100 fine imposed by the court on her husband in a former liquor trial.

Mr. Wilson resented the question, and suddenly jumped to his feet and started toward the prosecutor. The attorney invited him further, when the court took hand and directed the case to proceed.

The special venire of 25 names was practically used yesterday in securing the jury, and the twelve men finally selected for the case, were as follows: James Moore, Ben Jones, C. M. George, Curtis Thrall, Charles Hinkle, Walter Richey, Ed Reeves, Jacob Hiner, J. K. Stiers, Loyd Waggoner, W. Linville and Ed B. Jackson.

In finishing up the court business before summer adjournment, several other issues were heard today by Judge Sparks in another room in the court house.

The divorce suit of Gertrude B. Diekey against Albert H. Diekey was heard, and the plaintiff was granted the divorce and custody of children. The defendant was ordered to pay $75 in back payments for support, an hereafter $15 a month.

In the divorce suit pending of Chase S. Floyd against Daisy Floyd, the court granted the change of venue from the local judge, and three judges were submitted. They are John W. Craig of Greensburg, Fremont Miller of Franklin and Rufus Hinshaw of Newcastle. Selection will be made late today. The defendant also filed a petition for the arrest of her husband on a contempt of court charge, which will be decided by the new judge.

Judge Sparks in the case of Arthur Lemon against Julius C. King, a damage suit, granted the plaintiff's motion for a change of venue, and sent the case to Greensburg for trial.

BLUE RIDGE BOYS INDICTED

Lowell Headlee Not Former Rushville Basketball Star

The Shelby county grand jury, during a short session held Thursday morning, returned an indictment against Lowell Headlee, Ralph Marshall and Harold Nech, the Blue Ridge boys, who are charged with petit larceny, in connection with the robbing of a store. The three defendants entered pleas of not guilty and their parents provided $500 bonds.

In Rushville and Rush county there seems to be a wrong impression concerning the Headlee boy, as the name is similar to the Lowell Headlee, basketball star on the Rushville team for a number of years. The Rushville young man is now residing in Indianapolis, and his mother lives in Manila, and there is no connection between the two families.

Cox again. The addition of such influence to the Cox boom would be of inestimable value to the Ohioan.

Baker started in under most receptive circumstances.

"Go get 'em Newt, I'm for you," a delegate shouted as Baker began.

Baker's speech was frequently interrupted by handclapping. His first mention of the League of Nations brought a sharp outbreak of cheering, handclapping and finally, one after another the delegations with the exception of Wisconsin rose to their feet, waved flags and applauded.

Baker denounced the Klan and brought a number of the delegations to their feet but it was not anything like the tempestuous outbreak of two days ago when the Klan was named for the first time before the convention.

There was much spontaneous applause of Baker's remarks by individual members of many delegations. Cox, it was evident, had many friends in the convention.

George Brennan came into the hall at 12:30, shook hands with a number of delegates as he made his way to his seat and passed the word that he doubted if there would be any balloting for the nominee until after the resolutions committee had reported.

If this is the case the resolutions committee may hold up actual voting until tomorrow.

When Baker named Cox, the Ohio delegation jumped to its feet, waving hats, handkerchiefs and fans. The cheering was general throughout the hall and individuals in many delegations stood up and shouted and applauded. There was no demonstration however, as demonstrations go. The Ohio delegation started a chant "Cox—Cox—Cox—Cox" but it was not taken up around the hall.

The band played "Ohio" and Cox delegates started singing.

A little fracas broke out in the Cox delegation during the cheering when some of the delegates wanted to parade. Ed Moore, however, didn't think it timely and efforts of a few to get up the standard and be led by Ned Mahoney, son-in-law of Cox who wished to subdue premature enthusiasm, finally clashed in a momentary fight.

Nat Albert of Canton, meantime, standing immediately in back of the standard kept up a solitary demonstration with horn, cheer and handkerchief waving.

A policeman drifted over to the delegation when heated words began to be exchanged as to whether there should be a parade. Meantime the band played "Ohio" while the delegates, flanked now by five cops, settled their difficulty themselves. There was something of a gathering about the delegation when it looked as if a fight might start but everything came out alright and Chairman Walsh began rapping for order.

William H. Malony of Montana, in a seven word seconding speech for

Smith made a great hit although his hoarseness resulting from yesterday's demonstration made his voice inaudible to all but a few. He said "I second the nomination of Governor Smith."

Governor Samuel Stewart of Montana then took the platform and seconded the nomination of McAdoo. There was quite a demonstration. A pretty girl in a green dress—Miss Dortchse Blecker of Houston Texas, led the cheering in her section. She hopped on a chair and waved a large silk American flag.

Eugene D. O'Sullivan of Omaha was recognized when the call of the roll of states reached Nebraska. O'Sullivan put in nomination Governor Charles Bryan of Nebraska, brother of Wm. J. Bryan and better known around the convention here as the tall man in glasses who wears the black skullcap.

O'Sullivan brought in once again the mention of oil but it passed unnoticed by the convention.

The speaker declared that Governor Bryan stood for high principles that "the chaplain of this convention could read from the 23rd Psalm the words 'thou shalt not start a riot'."

He referred to Coolidge as "our accidental president."

"It does this," was O'Sullivan's slogan for Bryan.

O'Sullivan brought out a mild burst of applause for W. J. Bryan, brother of the candidate, when he referred to the prominence of the name in Democratic ranks.

At the mention of Charles Bryan's name at the end of O'Sullivan's speech, the Nebraska delegation jumped to its feet and cheered. Delegates in many other delegations also stood up and cheered.

Nevada passed and when New Hampshire was called the delegation stood and gave itself a cheer. The Hon. Clyde Keefe of New Hampshire was recognized. He placed Fred H. Brown, governor of New Hampshire, in nomination.

Keefe recounted the patriots his state had furnished the nation, particularly in the "glorious defeat of Bunker Hill" and after copious eulogies, referred to the governor as having been a ball player in the National League. New Hampshire paraded around the hall—alone—while other delegates cheered.

While the nominating speeches were in progress, the soldiers and sailors committee of New York issued a statement boasting Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York for president.

gress, Congressman Elliott explained, "After the civil war," he said, "we had only two sections, the north and the south. But sectionalism then was nothing like it is now. New York and Pennsylvania do not see things as New England does, and through the middle west is another section. Views differ in the west and the northwest, and in the south there are about four sections, in all of which ideas on public questions differ."

Representative Elliott's committee heard three election cases during the past session, one from New York, one from Chicago and another from East St. Louis.

In the New York case (the nineteenth district) the committee voted to unseat Sol Bloom, a millionaire, because of alleged fraud, but the radical bloc from the northwest voted with the minority and enabled Bloom to remain in congress. In the Chicago case, the election was contested on account of the closeness of the vote. The democrat was finally declared the candidate, elected, the committee finding that he had won by 42 votes. The house sustained the committee in this report.

Sandwichmen Heckle Delegates

Factional comments on various platform issues were waved in the eyes of delegates to the Democratic Convention when a veritable gauntlet of sign bearers, in all sorts of garbs, had to be run by persons attending. Convention fans bore a pacifistic slogan, "Law, Not War." Pickets carried signs reading "Jaw, Not Law" and "Outjaw War" signed by the "Bunk Peace Prizers." Another picket was made up to resemble Wm. Anderson, former anti-saloon league chief in New York, now in prison.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Madison Square Garden, New York June 27—Major J. A. White who is broadcasting the Democratic convention for the Radio Corporation, sends his respects to the Ka Klux Klan. If they don't like what's going on in Madison Square Garden they needn't write to him about it.

Major White is in receipt of numerous hot letters and telegrams from Klan sympathizers in all parts of the country who objected to his description of the big anti-klan demonstration on Wednesday. They accused him of partiality and other things not so nice.

As official broadcaster, Major White says he proposes to tell the world just what's going on at the Garden.

The benign shade of Thomas Jefferson, which hovered over the convention hall shedding harmony on the opening sessions, was fading out today like the Cheshire cat of Alice in Wonderland.

The delegates were all Democrats when it started out, now they're Smith Democrats, McAdoo Democrats, "dark horse" Democrats, and the battle is on.

At first the delegates and the leaders, too, sat smiling in approval or patiently bearing with the flood of oratory loosed by the spell-binders.

Now "boss" Brennan of Illinois leaves his seat and stomps angrily to a conference with his henchmen. Breckinridge Long, leader of the McAdoo forces, his face a thundercloud above his melting high collar and his ice-cream suit, is never in any one place for long. Smiles have given way to scowls.

From now on reports of the speeches, even invitations will be looked upon critically. The plea of Congressman Fitzgerald that the convention shouldn't sit last night because of an invitation to an entertainment for the delegates, drew a heated, scornful reply from the McAdoo crowd—they were here for business, not for pleasure.

ONE DEATH AND 7 INJURED

Kansas City Storm is Most Severe Experienced in a Decade

Kansas City, Mo., June 27—One was killed and seven injured today in the most severe rain, hail and wind storm experienced in Kansas City in a decade. Rain fell in sheets, flooding streets and causing streams to rise to flood stages.

The Missouri river registered 20 feet, twice its normal depth, and the Kaw river rose rapidly. Small streams were out of their banks. Torrents rushed down the streets, sweeping out pavements in blocks and tying up traffic.

ATTEND COMRAD'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Brundfield Turner, a Civil War veteran who died suddenly this week at his home in Greensburg, were held Thursday afternoon in that city, and several of his former comrades from here attended the services. The deceased was a member of the 123 regiment, infantry, during the war, and was associated in the same company with Dan M. Kinney, L. B. Downey and Will A. Smith of this county, all of whom attended the funeral. The deceased was formerly court bailiff at Columbia City—Robert Hoffblin, 12 year old school boy, lighted the powder in a shotgun shell. He was severely burned about the eyes and face.

MOVIES

"Tiger Love" At Princess

Antonio Moreno and Estelle Taylor are featured in the leading roles of the George Melford Paramount production, "Tiger Love," which will be the feature at the Princess theatre today and Friday. The story is a fast-moving romantic drama of Spain.

According to an announcement by Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president in charge of production for Paramount, he felt that Moreno was the ideal choice for the role of the Wild cat, a happy-go-lucky, stop-at-nothing bandit chief. Miss Taylor's assignment to the feminine lead came as a recognition of her brilliant performance in Cecil B. DeMille's "Ten Commandments."

"Tiger Love" is one of the few Spanish pictures in which it has been Moreno's lot to appear despite the fact that he always sought opportunities to portray on the screen characters of his own nationality. "The Spanish Dancer," in which he appeared in support of Pola Negri, will be remembered as one of Tony's recent successes.

And after "Tiger Love" Estelle Taylor is going to be one of the most popular screen actresses. Her role of a Spanish beauty in the production suits her to perfection. She is a bewitching brunette, beautiful dark eyes and—well, why not see the picture?

"Potash and Perlmutter"

The filming of "Potash and Perlmutter," a First National picture produced by Samuel Goldwyn, which is coming today and Saturday to the Castle theatre, provided considerable amusement to the spectators allowed to watch the actors at work before the picture. Naturally they laughed as the leading players, Barney Bernard and Alexander Carr, went through the prescribed action of the script, but there were no prompt script which added zest to the situation.

Being natural born comedians, both Bernard and Carr love to play practical jokes, and they could not restrain the impulse even while the camera was grinding. One or the other would suddenly think of a clever piece of "business" which was not intended by the author, and would spring it on the other, taking him by surprise and sometimes frustrating him so much that he would

KEEN COMPETITION
IN FIELD EVENTSBy FRANK GETTY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 27—America should pick up about 70 points in the field events at Paris.

This is a modest calculation, well within the team's ability. In some events, there will scarcely be a flag on the pole save the Stars and Stripes; in some, it must be admitted, our team probably will not win a place.

When we consider the performance of the shot-putters at Cambridge a couple of days before the American contingent sailed for Paris, and realize that Charley Eastman of Harvard and Lieutenant Liversedge, U. S. N., couldn't even qualify with heaves of 47 feet 3 inches, we realize how preponderant is this country's strength in this event. There are few weight men in Europe doing better than 45 feet, and the best of our men—"Bud" Houser and Glen Hartranft from the car coast—will do better than 50 feet next month.

In the javelin throw and the discus, however, anything the United States gets will be welcome. The showing made by our javelin hurlers at the final tryouts at Cambridge was woefully weak. From the press box, it looked as though Wheeler, Neufeldt and Priester were handling their javelins rather clumsily, and all had trouble with the line from behind, which they were required to throw.

"Bud" Houser figures in the discus throw, too, but we are weak in this event, and might as well admit it. J. T. Lieb and Augustus Pope, both of the Illinois, A. C., are about our best, and they should be badly beaten, unless they produce unlooked-for ability.

In the pole vault, it is just the other way. We have Spearow of Oregon, Lee Barnes, the high school kid from Hollywood; Jim Brooker of Michigan and George Graham of California Tech, all capable of better than 13 feet. They might well be tied for first place against the world, although if Hoff, the great Scandinavian vaulter, is in shape, he has bettered 13 feet 6 inches. Hoff had the misfortune to tear the ligaments in his leg while training early this month, and was advised not to enter the Olympics.

Our high jumpers are the best of the world, Osborne and Lefroy Brown particularly, with Tom Poor likely to beat either of them. The United States should account for first and several other places in the high jump.

lose his cue. But Director Clarence Badger, although kept on "needles and pins," did not object very strenuously, for the jokes gave the action a spirit of spontaneity which made it doubly convincing.

Vera Gordon is co-starred with Bernard and Carr in "Potash and Perlmutter," which was adapted from the famous play by Montague Glass.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero, Eddie Rommel ended the winning streak of the league-leading Senators by letting them down with two hits in the second game yesterday. Walter Johnson shut out the Athletics in the first game and Senators won 5-0. They dropped the second 1-0.

The dizzy descent of the Champion Yanks continued. The Red Sox pounded Cliff Markle, the new pitcher from St. Paul and won 8 to 5. Ruth went hitless.

Decatur went wild in the ninth and the Phils routed the Robins 3-2. Johnny Morrison out-pitched Vic Aldridge and the Pirates made it two straight from the Cubs 2-1.

Pfeffer out-pitched Benton to give the Cards a 2-1 victory over the Reds

R. Norris Williams easily defeated A. N. W. Dudley, in the opening match, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4.

Continuing her wonderful game, against which no opponent has been able to score a single point, Suzanne Lenglen defeated Mrs. George Wightman, former American champion 6-0, 6-0 in the fourth round today.

Vinnie Richards on whom America is pinning most of its hopes in the singles, won his match against D. M. Greig, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Middle-weight Champion Meets a Tartar in Ted Moore From Across The Atlantic

EVENTS AT MILK FUND SHOW

New York, June 27—Eron over around the English channel has come another fighting machine with a heart and an iron jaw—Ted Moore.

For 15-rounds last night he stayed on while 40,000 fight fans urged Harry Greb, middle-weight champion, to put over the knockout. It was the feature event of the Milk Fund show at the Yankee stadium and Moore lost the decision in 15 rounds but won plaudits by his gameness.

In the semi-wind up Ermino Spialla the European heavyweight champion got smashed with everything Gene Tunney offered for seven rounds before the fight was ended. The referee gave Tunney a technical knockout.

Officials gave Young Stripling of Georgia the decision over Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia in six rounds. The crowd booed.

Only one title changed hands, that of colored middleweight champion, Larry Estridge won it from Panama Joe Gans after ten rounds of vicious boxing.

The two Barnes brothers—Jess and Virgil—both went to the showers while the Giants won from the Braves 8-1.

A tenth inning rally of three runs gave the Indians a 7 to 4 victory over the White Sox.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

PRaises of Candidates Sung in the Nominating Addresses

DAVIS OF KANSAS

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—The people everywhere but more especially in the middle-west and the great north-west in the agricultural sections are looking for a man demanding something more tangible than calling attention to the facts and noble deeds of the past. Representative W. A. Ayers of Kansas asserted in placing the name of Governor Jonathan W. Davis of Kansas in nomination before the national Democratic convention.

He assailed the Republican agricultural platform, asserting it held nothing for the farmer and said that one "reactionary party is more than a majority of the people of the country want."

The people are demanding a forceful executive of the nation who will inspire confidence in congress of his leadership and the candidate must possess as well the ability to equalize and adjust differences between the legislature and the chief executive, he said.

Davis, he continued, possesses all these qualifications, is a progressive and a fair representative in its truest sense of the progressive West. In addition he is a real dirt farmer.

CARTER GLASS

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—Carter Glass was placed in nomination by Senator Swanson who claimed for his state the privilege of naming the Democratic nominee "after more than half a century of unselfish service."

He presented the former secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration as "a combination of strength, a candidate of national thought, a national patriot, who has and will be a nationalist in accomplishment."

"We need a man too honest to be corrupted by the rich and too brave to be coerced by the demagogues, who will keep the temple of our government free alike from the greedy money changers and the plundering rabble," Senator Swanson declared. "We need a man who has more intellectual and moral wealth than material wealth."

"Recognizing fully the imperative demands of the hour, completely conscious of the conditions which should attach to the nomination and election of the man to be the next president of the United States, I present to you as measuring up to all these needs, Carter Glass, of the Old Dominion."

"He possesses a rare combination of capacity, character and courage. Glass excels alike in wisdom and resolution."

"To him the country is indebted for the Federal Reserve Act," the speaker declared, "for the first time under this act the reserves of the national banks, were made available to the farmers. Hundreds of farmers have enjoyed its manifold benefits. "Glass," his nominator said, "has ever extended sympathetic and cordial support to labor."

He has been the consistent and efficient champion of agriculture, the speaker said, and he is liberal and progressive without being a destructive radical.

GEORGE S. SILZER

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—Pointing out that Woodrow Wilson was nominated for president in Baltimore 12 years ago this week, John A. Matthews drew an analogy between the career of Wilson and Governor George S. Silzer, whose name he placed in nomination for the presidency at the national Democratic convention.

Asserting that Silzer possesses the same ideals as Wilson and is "a patriot of the truest type," he urged the convention to name Silzer as the party's standard bearer because his would be a leadership that would be practical, progressive, statesman-like and unafraid.

He pointed out that in Silzer's early career he was opposed by Wilson but that Wilson soon recognized his ability after he came to know his ideals and appointed him to an official position in his county in which office he was retained by the voters.

"New Jersey's governor is a leader of incomparable type," Matthews said. "He has crowded into one year of service as chief executive of our state constructive accomplishments that look to the very essence of governmental well being. Corruption, the foe of all honest government, had been rearing its fateful head in the extensive highway program of our state. Six days after our candidate was inaugurated governor he removed the majority of the members which were of his own party. Out of that battle he emerged a victory."

"Honesty of purpose and of action are the main springs of his private and official conduct. He believes that God made law and man-made law are as binding upon business as upon individuals. He is the truest sense of the word a progressive and a progressive is one who applies the principles of successful business to the business of government."

JAMES M. COX

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 27.—A call to the Democratic convention to stick to the principles of Woodrow Wilson and renounce James M. Cox of Ohio as presidential candidate was sounded by Newton D. Baker in a speech placing Cox in nomination before the Democratic convention.

"There is nobility in a defeat when it is but a temporary set-back in the assertion of principles eternally true," Baker said at the outset in referring to the overwhelming majority piled up against Cox in the last presidential election when he stressed the advisability of American entrance into the Wilson League of Nations.

"Those who have suffered such a defeat, when they meet again, know that they are soon to gather the fruits of their waiting, and their faith."

"Truths which are great enough to be worth while must struggle for their place and do battle against prejudice and inertia, but after a while because they are true, they become axioms. Opposition at the outset confident and obstinate, fades away and those who early believed and long labored to vindicate the truth, witness with joy another forward step in the silent march of human progress."

"In national affairs we can be neither reactionary nor radical, but we must in both platform and candidate, satisfy that liberal sentiment which knows that growth is the law of life."

"Our task is to make a program so constructive and enticing as will draw men away from the petty and futile, and devote them, as crusaders are devoted, to causes which are intrinsically worth while."

Baker denounced the Republican administration for its failure to follow the leadership of Wilson's foreign policies.

Marion—Charles Bowman, John Carter, F. E. Morrison, Dempsey Seybold, and Ed Moore have served a total of 130 years in the local pastorate.

Diseases traced to constipation are many —get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

Why does constipation breed other diseases? Because it floods your system with dangerous poisons. And the longer you suffer, the more poisons accumulate. That is why constipation should be relieved at once.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled. They know it brings results because it is ALL bran. And only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective in relieving constipation.

ALL bran — Kellogg's — sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts as nature acts. It makes the intestine function naturally and regularly. If eaten regularly, it will bring permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation—is guaranteed.

to do so or your grocer returns your money.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful Kellogg's flavor—so crisp and nut-like—so different from ordinary bran, which are most unpalatable.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. And by all means try it in the recipes given on every package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, made in Battle Creek, is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Chalk Up Another Point!

Hot weather and touring tend to overcharge and overheat batteries. Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation gives you extra protection against the effects of overheating. Being made largely of rubber, it does not "burn out".

This has saved many a battery which otherwise would have been a total loss. And Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries cost no more than many wood-insulated batteries.

"Skofflaw" Statue Squelched

This is the statue of Father Knickerbocker that caused all the trouble. Placed above the Hotel Astor as a welcome sign to Democratic Convention visitors in New York it showed the traditional figure holding a huge stein of beer—real, frothy beer, such as symbolized hospitality in the Knickerbocker era. But forms of hospitality change and so thousands were shouting "skofflaw" as they passed the statue. It was declared a symbol of wet revolt. Father Knickerbocker said he would rather lose his good right arm than his stein. And so they sawed off his arm, and in place of the stein now stands a formal "Welcome"—as the picture shows.

"GAS" TAX PAYS STATE BIG SUM

Highway Commission Has Received
More Than Four Million Dollars
on the Two Cent Levy

APPEAL SUIT IS PENDING

Decision Expected Within Two Weeks
by Supreme Court. Following Ruling in Joseph County

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—The state highway commission has been paid $1,440,000.00 collected under the Gasoline Tax Law by state auditor Robert Bracken according to records of the auditors office.

The measure which imposed a two-cent levy on each gallon of gasoline sold has been declared unconstitutional by the St. Joseph Superior Court and an appeal to the Supreme Court is hanging fire.

The case might be decided within the next two weeks, if a petition is made the court to have the case placed on its advance docket.

A question has been raised as to how the state would reimburse the tax collected if the measures found faulty by the high court.

Decision on the case would probably come before adjournment of the present term of court July 3 if either party in the suit which is deciding the status of the law would petition the court to have the case placed on the advanced docket.

The case is the appeal of Bruce Caffill vs Robert Bracken state auditor, Attorney General U. S. Lesh represents Bracken in the action.

Rules of the court give precedence to any civil cases which involve questions of the constitutionality of any law, public revenue, public health or the settlement of trusts, on which the court may deem of general public concern.

If not placed on the advance docket and permitted to stay on the docket until next term the decision on the law will not be forthcoming until late this year as the supreme court will not reconvene in October.

The law became effective June 1, 1923 and since this time a gross sum of approximately $4,555,000.00 has been collected under its provision.

Since the law became effective, the auditor has returned some of the money to consumers who use gasoline in tractors and for other purposes. He took this step upon an opinion of the attorney general that the law was unconstitutional in taxing gasoline used for other purposes than for motor vehicles on the highways.

Laporte—Police are holding two Greeks for obtaining money under false pretenses following solicitation for the Near East Relief Fund.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Bar Associations in all parts of the state are going on record as favorable to a bill which will probably be presented to the next session of the legislature providing for adequate filing room for the records of the state supreme and appellate courts.

Present facilities of the clerk of the court to properly care for the records are inadequate are a great fire hazard to the statehouse as well.

All the appeals, which sometimes in just one case, will constitute hundreds of pounds of bound typewritten records are stored in a basement room at the statehouse.

It is necessary almost daily to rummage through the appeal briefs to retrieve records which are tempo-arily withdrawn for retrieval cases and other causes.

Among the other causes they range from getting plats of towns to getting last photographs of dead relatives.

It recently occurred that a case in a circuit court demanded as evidence, a copy of the original platting of a town. It happened that the plat contained in an appeal case was the only one obtainable. It was rummaged for, photostatic prints, made and the print used as evidence.

In another case, grand children of a dead man petition the court for withdrawal of six pictures which had been submitted along with appeal briefs. The court allowed the request and prints were made from them. They were the only pictures of the dead man in existence.

In many other cases the records

are invaluable to attorneys, even after decision has been made by the court.

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS HOW TANLAC HELPED MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse is Firm Believer in Tanlac and Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million Bottles sold.
